Assume that value is 2565.558

we can use following format for this value -:

1)if we round it by two decimal places then result would be this i.e 2565.56(currenlty we are using this scenario)
2) if we round it into integer value then result would be 2566
3)if we round it by one decimal places then result will be 2565.6.

These are three steps we can follow.let me know which step we need to keep.
